

Interview with a Witch Christine Jones, one of Sybil leek's students

"The last student of famous witch Sybil Leek gives a rare interview on Samhain the original Halloween, Wicca, witchcraft & some magic spells from Sybil herself. This interview was conducted 3 days before Halloween in 2007."

Welcome back true seekers, how's it going my name is Michael Parker, this is dark matter on air. Today is the 28th of October and Halloween is in three days and I'm guessing that everybody is looking forward to a lot of fun, but before there was Halloween, there was another holiday. I don't know if you'd even call it a holiday I think that's actually not really the correct word for it but it was called it. So Wayne and I have invited the person that I think is the most appropriate person to explain all this to us and she's a friend of mine her name is Christine Jones. Today she's going to be on and she's going to tell us about her religion, how she got involved in this, who her mentor was and then, she's going to explain how this idea of Samhain is and what it meant to the pagans and people of ancient times and how it has evolved into the secular holiday which we know as Halloween, so without further ado, I would like to welcome to the show Christine Jones.

h,i Michael how are you? thank you for having me. well thank you for coming on I really appreciate it I am really gonna enjoy this well tell me this now because I've known you a couple of years and you're actually honestly the first witch that I've ever known and I'm the discussions that I've had with you have always very enlightening and you're this wonderful compassionate person and a lot, there's a lot of well sometimes absolutely... I mean we all have... we all have those off days where we get a little edgy, but what I was going to say there's a lot of misinformation out there about what witches are and there are many different types so maybe if you could tell us about your life, and where you came from and how you got involved in this...

okay I met up with the late Sybil Leek in 1977. She was the world's most famous witch at that time and in some ways she still is, you know... she's still around, still in people's memories. I knew her from December the 21st at 10:00 p.m. in 1977, that is when I became a witch until she died in 1986 on October the 26th and she wanted to die on the 31st but she didn't make it that far. Through her I had an out-of-body experience at that 10 o'clock hour and at that time I experienced something very phenomenal. It was what happened that I know is what happens at the point of death, your memory banks are fully restored and now I experienced it, you then are taken by angels, she called them angels or spirits whatever you want to say and you're taken to the realms of the garden goddess, you've got your memory bank, so you don't need anyone with a book or anything else and you judge yourself, no body judges you, you say the whole thing you have no control over it. The garden God has the right in front of you and then they evaluate what you've done in your life so if when you were a kid you kick the dog and when you grew up you belong to the Humane Society is done well, if you keep doing it, you've got bad karma.

The next thing was I experienced love, that nothing on earth could even go near it, and there's a sense of being loved and then in a sort of ball of white light I was returned to her. The last thing I remember was my mother goddess holding my face in her hand saying you are so loved Christine.

Okay the night you had this experience, this was the night that you became a witch? yes and and Sybil leek induced this experience how does she do that? She did seven nights of intense concentration at 10 o'clock at night, for seven nights in a row before that she took me back in time to when I was a child bringing it forward. We did various, the happiest moments, the saddest moments, angry moments, it was a whole series I've got it all written down, it is too long to go into, but they were all was fantastic. It went on for about half an hour at night at 10 o'clock until that seventh night and it was December the 21st, it was the winter solstice but of course I didn't know that. Then she invited me to come to Florida to be with her and I did, I just uprooted everything and off I went I didn't particularly care, Well, how did you meet up with her? I mean... how did you know that you wanted to become a witch?

Oh I got into trouble, I went to a seance of some sort, I don't know what it was, they were doing regressive hypnosis and people we care for regressive hypnosis, I got too deeply into it, I was doing it. The lady who did it didn't know how to bring you out of it properly, and left me, and where I was, so I was stuck in a time warp, but in that time I knew I became a witch, I was a witch, I knew I was a witch, and in the morning I said, I'm a witch my name is Karen, I knew my other name but didn't know how all this happened, they had no idea. No idea what was happening, my roommates at the time said: what the hell are you talking about? She couldn't get me away from it, you know... it was constant... I went to New York, I had to see Herman Slater, he had a witch store and finally I found a book by Sybil Leek and I wrote her, and she wrote back, and that's how that experience went into action and I became a witch that night, and I've never looked back.

The way she taught me the religion, and people need to hear this: we have a mother goddess and a father God who are equal in all ways and we have number for them, then we have gods and goddesses who all rule over the birds, the land, the universe, they don't have much to do with us here on earth, then you have the seven major families of archangels, one for each day of the week, Cassiel, anael, sachel, Samuel, Gabriel, Raphael and Michael, and every hour of every day is covered by one of those families, the table of angels that you can get and look at and each person according to their day date an hour of birth has a guardian angel from their family, so you have to go to the aribert to find out who your angel is and that angel family will stay with you from the day you are born till the day you die, and they'll take you for judgment, then we say there are guardian angels, which of the angels who are in the process of learning but they come down to earth to stay with us to guard us through our life, and we always have one or two or three with us, and then you have regular angels who are getting ready to come back to earth, to reincarnate, because witches believe in reincarnation very firmly, the word WITCH means wise one, the word pagan is a truncated form of the word Kagami. it's Latin for one who dwells in the country heathen is heapin one who dwells on the heath a coven is a curve, instead or meeting place, where witches meet.

The cauldron is the cooking pot that used to be in the Middle Ages when they walked across the heath to cook. The Wich would carry a cauldron at cooking pot and they didn't put bats wings or anything like that, they probably put a chicken in there or something like that.

The broom is used to sweep the ground before we do worship, nothing sinister. The word spell, it simply means a period of time when we concentrate intently for one thing, and one thing only. Now Christians do the same, as we do, when they pray, but they pray for multiple things. We focus on one concentration. So a spell means a period of time, look it up in the dictionary right, now yeah a period of time that's all it means.

The witch's hat, the conical hat came the time when they made fun of us when they started the persecution, and the conical hats were in fashion then, so anyone who wore a conical hat was out of step. In 1484 Pope Innocent the eighth did a papal bull and it was the bull about that to cure witches, he then proceeded to make it a law, and he went on doing this till there were nine million people killed and many of them weren't witches. And he then decided it was unfashionable to murder people for their religion, so he lifted this dogma or bore whatever it was but they then proceeded to write our history and they wrote trash and they've never to this day have apologized to us they should be down on their knees, saying they're sorry. Look at their own disgrace with the pedophiles throughout the church and they've never said this words the witches who hadn't done anything to anyone.

Last week our guest that was on the show is an astrologer and he was talking about many pieces of art within the Vatican that actually show the astrological signs and symbols clearly and you know they were waving the finger at us not to get involved with this or that, yeah and the early Pope's used to practice and do magic oh yeah now that's Astrology a mind-blower to, I'm sure to many people, yeah, because there are seven majors it has gifts that they give to man and you can freely ask to them, Cassiel does real-estate, takes care of the elderly sick and infirm and he finds missing persons and lost children, animals, the engine of love lovers lust and friendship. Sachiel is health and wealth who's our next on. Rafael does legal matters, the arts and poetry. Samuel does wealth and immediate health so if you're immediately sick he was the one to go to.

Michael he does music, physical development and of course is the best known as the angels, Gabriel is about pregnancy and travel by water. Samuel is rather one of my favorites he's the one that comes from Mars he's a great guardian of strength, Samuel comes from Mars yeah well and Mars is is strengthen and warfare and things of that nature I guess typically in astrology yeah and he's dangerous factory workers and takes care of your car and he does machinery and he will go after bad bosses where you go all right, Rafael: your legal matters, the arts and poetry. Cassiel is my actual guardian and he finds missing persons and lost children, real estate and he takes care of the elderly and the dying.

Well Christine tell me what type of a witch would you say you were, and what types are there?

I'm solitary, I like to be myself but I join in coven's at certain times. There are all kinds: Celtic, Dianic, Gardnerian, 13:25

Gardens... there are so many, and so many covens. Just as Christians have different churches we have different covens, and we have covens for gay people, Dianic, and covens just for men, if they don't want to interact with us they've got their own covers so we don't deny anyone their right to worship, and that's fair. so we have all of that.

Well let me ask you this, as a practicing solitary witch what does a witch typically do? I know you are also a clairvoyant you're a writer you do many things but just, I mean what goes on in the life of a solitary witch and how do you practice? Well perfectly normal, through the daytime and on Halloween of course it will be very different, because I will shut my windows and pull the drapes and I light four white candles to the corners of the earth: Michael to the South, Uriel to the north, Raphael to the East and Gabriel to the west, at the top part of the pentagram is God and Goddess and the center is the person wearing it, so I will light my four corners and then you do a ritual, I have a ritual sword which is symbolic of the male and the chalice is symbolic of the female, so I do my ritual quietly by myself, you pray for wisdom, now, Halloween or Hallow's Eve or sewing is the night on earth when the veil between life and death is the thinnest, and the old ones return to us to help us, and we ask them for help, we asked them for their guidance and we tell them our needs and it's a very holy night to us, I don't care really the people dress up that's okay, but I don't think they're like if we did things like that at Christmas, right? I have that weird feeling right that they would kind of go what mm-hmm so we kind of ignore them, occasionally which is join in the fun and they have Halloween they have their all fancy dress balls and it's very funny when they do but I kind of wonder if it will ever come to the realization that they are actually stepping on somebody's holy day, I don't think people realize that, and that's one thing I wanted to talk about this in this show. Halloween didn't start as Halloween, it started out as Samhain.

So, Christine... you said that you would actually be inside a circle and that you would light four candles to the four directions?

Yes, and the one for the mother goddess and the Father God, and one representing myself, that is the pentagram, the five star, the five pointed star.

So, when you say the goddess and the Father God you are still talking about two entities but they are part of the same?

yes, they are energy forms, they are not people. We don't have to humanize GOD.

they're together and it makes sense because we're male and female and father made the male and the mother made the female it makes sense, they are equal in all ways we have none before them okay.

I have a perfect understanding of what all that means, and then the gods and goddesses who do the land, the seeds, the birds, the sky the universe, and then the Archangels who are over us, as if they were taking care of us.

okay and when you are doing this this ritual, what else will you be doing on that evening? just some quiet meditation?

On the first point I would say thank you, for what they have given us in the past month second point I would ask for the help I needed and the guidance I needed third point I'd ask the people who were my friend who I thought needed help he first point is adoration of the God and Goddess.

It's amazing because everything you're talking about is all beneficial and I think that most people when they picture the idea of witchcraft, they're thinking of black arts and negative and evil and things of that nature and they're not when you use the word angels and which in the same context I think there's some people who just go what the heck?

Remember I went straight from, you know... not being a witch, to being a witch in the living room and I said to her: "I thought (it was very innocently) I thought angels were Christian" and she looked at me (Sybil) like thunder, she said: "they'd stolen from us".

Oh well, let me ask you this. should they even be called angels or is there another word that should be used for them?

No, angels or spirits. I'm perfectly comfortable with angels and spirits. She said (Sybil) witches had angels long before Christians. They stolen from us, they stole one of our white Wiccan ceremonies is is now their mass, and if you notice the thanks they call of nine orders of angels the called in the Catholic Church, they talk about the Archangels, there are Archangels, they snafued them from us. Gabriel, they made him the angel of pregnancy because they wanted to make it somehow that Madonna, you know she was seen by this angel which the pagans of those days would understand because it was one of theirs, and they use these sneaky ways to sort of coerce them into becoming Christian. I'm waiting for them to apologize if they're out there listening, apologize.

let's talk a bit about the idea of paganism, what paganism actually is? because a lot of these holidays that we celebrate now were initially pagan days of different names. so explain that.

now they call it all souls day in England. They have All Saints Day and then All Souls Day so they changed that. Easter is Ostara the goddess of the east and her symbols of the rabbit and the egg it all comes from us, Christmas was originally on December the 21st and it was Mithras the god of light the Sun God. they turned it into the Son of God, so all of your festivals are based on pagan holidays.

I want to talk a little bit more about witches and witchcraft and if there really is this this designation between white witchcraft and black witchcraft and why that is so and what involves and just anything that you can tell us to help those of us who know very little about this to have a better understanding of it.

We don't like upside-down pentagrams I like straight up positive energy Michael, Uriel, Raphael, Gabriel, the mother goddess and father God at the top point, the person is in the center of the circle. It is the circle of reincarnation. I only have my pentagram upright if people want to turn it upside down I guess whatever blows their skirts up or whatever makes them happy, but I don't like it because you're inverting the energy, so it's a negative energy and I'm not happy with that, so in all of witchcraft, the upside-down pentagram plays no role.

I let me ask you this, I know that the work that you do is beneficial and you're about positivity and compassion but there are folks that are involved in in the dark side as well, correct? oh yeah now personally I can't imagine wanting to tap into that side of things but why do some witches decide to go that route?

it's usually not regular witches won't be doing negative energy because we have a golden rule: do as you will harm ye none. Least of all myself and we say if she's negative magic on somebody else look out for the snake bite it comes right back at you so we don't do it so it's other people who do it. One day right here on the beach in Melbourne I was in Indialantic walking on the beach and I almost stood on this scissor blade that was sticking up in the ground and I looked down and somebody had made a human head and a chest and they put hair and they put eyes and teeth and they had stuck a garden scissor into the heart of the person who and I knew immediately what it was, so it was from the Caribbean, so I stood there and I saw hell so I quickly circled it, and broke what they were doing because when the tide came in and took it, that person would probably die, well I made the mistake of going to BCC College I used to make - there four or five times a year at world religions and I told the audience what I had found, about three days later

I became deathly sick, so I'd upset some voodoo artists who heard me in the audience and obviously took exception when I got home there was a horrific message on my telephone in another language and it said I would die at the end of it and the police had come and tape the tape and they had to escort me to work at night and they weren't very amused but I got to be friendly with them so they will watch me at night.

Witches are usually undoing other people with bad magic. But our rule of three, do as you will, harm ye none least of all life itself, and that's an absolutely positive message.

Let me ask you this dude, in your in your life have people come to you asking you to undo spells or things of this nature that they feel have been put upon them?

yes, yes, they've come and asked me to do things to people, right? and I look at them and say no, I don't harm other people, if you want to do that you do it yourself, it's on your head not mine,

I won't do it if it comes to undoing bad magic if it's possible I will, but it's not always easy because you've got to know who sent it out, so what you have to do is to send the healing and correction into the ether hopefully in the right direction not always easy, some people get in a lot of trouble doing black magic, they do horrible it's spooky as heck to me, it gives me the creeps, big time, I don't like it and I won't do it.

Let me ask you this let's talk about some other things that people are gonna be curious about. You mentioned early in the show that you had once been involved I think in a seance and you said that they were doing regressive hypnosis. I guess my first question just kind of playing devil's advocate here, well why were they doing aggressive hypnosis because and the only reason I say that is because if you're doing that within the course of a seance surely the skeptic could come up and say well listen if you're hypnotizing people then how do you know anything actually happened perhaps these were ideas or images that were placed into the to the heads of the folks that were there ?

It was the science for about thirteen or fourteen men and women, you know male, female, male, female, it was correctly done found holding hands, the woman who did it wasn't trained in how to do it, and this is how I got hurt. I didn't know anything about it, this is actually my first beginning experiences at spiritualism.

Dr. Raymond Buckland, he is a dear friend of mine and he is very good at spiritualism.

This woman, she taught us how to get into a hypnotic state and then what happened, she asked people what they were seeing and I was susceptible because I was fascinated and I went very deep and I realized I was a witch I saw myself burning on the stake and I saw an Irish lady with a headscarf on sitting in the corner. I was so it sort of fascinated but what She didn't know is was that when you do hypnosis you have to bring the person out of it correctly, when she did it she walked his down steps using our minds, but she didn't walk us back up the steps. So, I was stuck kind of in limbo between this plane and the other. Correct. Living in this one still part of you being in the other. It was horrible it was a very bad experience.

How long did that go on? It went on for close to a year.

So how did you live while that was going on, what would happen to you while that was happening? tell me well my roommate, she died very young, I came the next morning and I walked into the living room and I said I'm a witch, my other name is Keridween and she said what the hell were you drinking? She was a cardiac nurse and she died of heart disease and yeah it was very sad and she said what's wrong with you Chris. I wanted to get back and go there and do it again. She didn't see any danger in it. the next week I went back to it and I went deeper and deeper and deeper each time not being regressed out of it and finally I couldn't work because I couldn't think you know except that I was a witch and I had to find out what to do. I wanted to go to New York and I made it. I went to see Herman's, later I got books from him, and I said to him... I walked to his door and I said: " I'm a witch"; he said: so what? I said: my other name is Keridween. When he said the name of the goddess. I said: oh she's real, and he said: yeah, what happened? and I told him and he said well you've had an unfortunate experience and he was kind of concerned, but then I found Sybils book in the bookstore in Matawan and I wrote to her, and I received a letter almost by return mail, saying she would help me and get me out of it, and she did, on December the 21st of 1977 at 10 o'clock at night. I came out of it and I was fine. And went on from then to practice as a witch and and learn more I never looked back.

it's not my skin, your religion is your whole being, if you really believe in what you. it's not my skin is my soul.

well I mean I think that's religion what it should be and that's one of the things about religion that sometimes concerns me is that people posture within it, sometimes without being fully touched by it and I don't know, I mean you can go through the motions of religion quite easily, without having actually... You can't if you are a witch. I consider myself a Christian I went to church but I have to admit there were many times when I as a child when I would sit there in church I was like I couldn't connect really, I mean I understood it, but it wasn't touching me on a deep a profound level. I mean quite honestly other things in my life touched me on a deeper level like the first time I heard a really incredible piece of music or or something like that I was like all of a sudden or even like riding a roller coaster or something I mean religion to me should have some type of engulfing feeling which is what it sounds like you are describing.

yeah if you go to a witch meet, where they're all together like sometimes you get three to five hundred together when the ritual takes place nobody is excluded. Everyone is in circle so you have a huge circle of active people taking part in the ritual. nobody gets to sit down and look pretty you get up and you're doing it and you're part of it and Hallows Eve is very much they get a mirror and they darken it and they make you stand in front of it and look at yourself so if every person walks around going parlor mirror and looking at themselves some of them like to jump the fire. We have the fires that people jump, we have the cauldron, now we put in things that are negative that we don't want to do anymore and at the end of the ritual they'll burn them, and then, you put the positive thoughts you've got, your positive.

let me ask you this right now or at this point in your life how many witches do you stay in contact with? a lot, lots.

how do you guys stay in touch with each other? and when you do convene or talk what do you guys converse about?

oh we talked on the phone, we email each other, but mostly we talk on the phone, the subject is almost invariably Witchcraft.

it's sort of in your blood, witches talk about witchcraft. kitchen witches are the witches who like to do spells in the kitchen

I like that one where you put peppercorn and he put peppercorns and a slow cooker and you want to get somebody to think about you bring it to a boil and you as soon as the peppercorns are boiling you infuse the water and the peppercorns with the sort of the person you want to call, you then, you turn it off and then they will call you this, it is brilliant,

I want you to tell us some of the the spells that you've done and I know that you just do beneficial ones but explain more just like you just did because I know a lot of people are gonna be fascinated by that Christine. let's return to that spell you were just talking about using the peppercorns if you could just explain that again, because I know there's some of our listeners out there like oh man I really wish I knew how to do that one, so if you could return to that one for a second...

okay you got a few peppercorns and a pan with water. Put the peppercorns in the pan of water bring it to a boil, keep it simmering, as you do this you think on the person that you want to call or contact you, if you intensify the boiling it will intensify the person thoughts of you, and then you turn off the pan and wait for the person to call you. Brian a friend of mine, he's a musician, he did it and the guy needed a guy to call him and he called him within 20 minutes!!! and he said this guy would never ever call him.

how about some money magic? let's throw this out there.

This was an original spell from Sybil leek, she told me this herself. You need one large dark green candle, you need a $5 bill, we need a wide based candle holder or sorcerer. Make sure it's safe. please put these down where they can remain under undisturbed so you don't touch them once you start. Time to do this spell from the new to the full moon, for spells to increase. You should be working on a waxing moon, from new to a full moon for increasing things. You placed the $5 bill under the candle so it's sound which between the base of the candle and the candle holder, only once a day, you light the candle, using your index finger of your right hand and you trace the circle clockwise around the candle saying: "as the wax on this candle melts so all this money increase" say this three times and then leave to the candle to burn for an hour or so, during the time the candle is burning look at the candle awesome, and visualize the money flowing freely and abundantly, do not think of any specific sum or method by which you will get it. Don't stand there and say well I want the lottery that won't work, you just leave it free, when you feel enough time is passed, take your index finger going clockwise again say three times: "as this money flows to me" and then you snuff the candle out, in magic you don't blow it, because you've blown away the magic, and if you haven't got a snuff await your fingers.

next one, this is a good one, the herb Myrtle. We call it fertile. You just get the herb, you can buy it in the health food store, the person you desire, you screw it along the path where you know they're gonna walk, you can even drop it indoors if you're careful and as soon as they walk over the area, they will immediately have affective, affective thoughts of you. Flirtatious thoughts. As they walk the path, now rosemary, the Arab rose is very good for sleeping you know. if you can't sleep use Rosemary and juice is very good to sleep. you put almost boiling water with the rosemary, wait for about five minutes and then drink it. It tastes good.

Let me ask you this. What about spells of protection? if one wants to protect their family or themselves ?

The age old standbys garlic, you take an garlic cloves of garlic and you cut it in very thin slices, not not anything thick and you put a piece of garlic in every corner of every room, in your house, and it blocks negative energy, it keeps negative out. The next thing you can do is put sea salt. if you have a house, you put sea salt outside of the house, around the perimeter, the entire house yeah. We're literally making a line all the way around the house clockwise. But the garlic is the one I've got. I'm not lying, I have garlic in every corner of my house. Anyone can walk in, now and they'd see it.

Now I'll tell you about mistletoe, well if you carry mistletoe into a haunted house, the spirits of the house will manifest themselves to you. It's an interesting concept. It arises it. if you suspect the house is haunted you can use this method.

the second story goes way back in time the pagan people used to bring this with her into their homes during winter to give the spirits of the forest refuge from the cold and it becomes the low birth. Ivy is said to have magical properties for instance if it's found growing on a concrete post it can be removed and placed around the head to ease headache, ivy was also part of the headdress worn by Roman warriors.

Lavender, in my homeland to smell lavender in a house it indicates that the house is haunted. of course lavender grows in profusion in England and has many uses, for example, lavender bags are made in places and drawers to make underwear smell sweet, sometimes it's turned into lavender water i my mother used to have that once was young, they make soap and bath cubes. Lavender bags can be placed under your pillow for restful sleep and good dreams.

Cloves, if you have a sore throat, the type used in ham, put them in about a mug of almost boiling water allow them to steep for approximately three minutes, drink the water, take the clothes out and drink it. It will numb your throat, it removes the pain. You can leave for rheumatism an excellent remedy and you buy them in the health food store and you make tea out of them again and it really relieves rheumatism.

And all of this kind of herbal and use of plants is there a particular type of magic that this is called ?

Herbs used in magic. Witches have to have a knowledge of herbs, they must.

I have a very good one. I know how to recognize them in the wild. I know deadly nightshade it has purple flower, the yellow center and it grows wild all over the place but it supposed to be illegal.

You brought about an interesting subject just a few minutes ago, you said mistletoe and haunted houses, and that made me think of a question I wanted to ask you, because I know that you've also been involved in some ghost hunting and I was wondering if you could tell us a little bit about that as well, like explaining some of the entities that you've encountered, or just some experiences that you've had, in the ghost hunting that you had done.

I've gone through some very weird psychic experiences and one of them happened to me, a friend of mine patty Richardson, I don't know she's out there listening, it would be hysterical if she is and she wanted me to go to this man's house because these friends of hers said that he murdered their stepmother, no their mother that was it, she said his name was Roger Mansfield and he's still out there if he's listening god help me, because he's free now and patty said to me let's go through his house and you see if you see if he did it, use the psychic abilities so we took toilet rolls and sandwiches and we went sailing up to this guy's house and banged on the door, he was home, he hadn't been arrested then, and we went inside, well inside were his two sons and him and what happened next was horrible: I looked at him and I saw once lost control and I went into a trance with no control on, I was completely out and I said, he killed her, you took the necklaces, he had gold necklace, s she had three of them I said, and I put my hands to my neck you know, and I closed my hands around my pentagram saying nice and you strangled her like this, and when I came out, the man was sitting on the floor kind of passed out. he had passed out when I described how he had murdered his wife.

The sons they just cooked open-mouth and patty was panic saying we gotta leave, and I said: what? because I was still not coming to...

This man was found guilty. He was away for a number of years, he breezes out now. I hope he's alright and he's reformed.

I went into a trance without an ounce control.

Well tell about any ghosts or apparitions or entities that you've encountered and what happened?

well that was one, it was his wife that I saw, standing in front of me showing me her gold necklace, isn't showing how he did it, I was just looking at her and saying what she told me.

no when you're looking at her what does this woman this apparition look like? does it look like the stereotypical translucent ghost that we see on television?

she was clothed in just normal Street clothes but luminous. it was light and she seemed like a very nice lady.

Well, more recently, I had a bizarre experience, I've been in a hospital, I had a lot of surgery and stuff done, and they put me on dilaudid, well I hallucinate it like crazy. I was allergic to it, and I have never seen so many different Comet spirits wandering through my room, it was weird.

now this is in the hospital. I saw one with a nurse's aide he had blue uniform on and she had like reddish gold hair and I had a mirror in front of my bed, and I could see half of her, he sort of went past me through the mirror and I was watching you know like... I thought what do I do in this instance? there was so many of them and I thought well close your eyes and pray, and I think that priests and religious ministers should bless hospitals, at least three or four times a year, to settle these spirits down,

What do you mean by that?

It calms things down but it doesn't release them always from where they're at. if you're gonna release a person from the earth that's something you have to do separately. it's a ceremony you do.

Would you encourage people, generally say if they move into a new home or something to actually get the house blessed?

Yes, certainly. I put garlic down that I blessed myself. You just take those clothes and you shave them finely and put them in every corner of every room.

oh this is a very good one: the witches pot. This is the best one to repel anyone doing anything to you. it's really good. you need a six ounce screw-top coffee there and you need post office tape sufficient to seal the top of the jar, and the dye you put half full of nails broken glass, anything sharp objects razor blades, then you feel that there are four half full of the above either items, then you feel fill it to the top with your own urine, and as possible you add a few drops of your blood, and you screw the top and seal it with post-office tape, then place it in the ground at least one foot down and cover it with dirt, and leave it, and that's all you have to do and you do not direct negative energy or anyone, the Jar will do its own thing.

okay I'm fascinated what is the jar doing? I mean and why those particular objects?

Negative sharp points, things that repel people, glass broken glass, things like that, the blood your own blood, you have to do absolutely nothing, I've never seen it fail to work. I usually put the one down in the ground outside my house about every six months to regenerate the strength. I've never had any trouble. it's sort of it's amazing and dr. Buckland writes that one in his books.

Sandra was asking Christine if the midnight hour of Halloween really had... if that particular time period has any real meaning. What does this mean what happens at midnight? 31 to the 1.

The midnight hour is the gathering of all the energies, come together at the one hour, because going from one day to the next, and so you get a lot of power at the midnight hour. Most witches on that night will do their rituals at midnight.

These could be rituals were we are thanking for previous gifts, for things they've given to you that you asked, for their knowledge, because this is a big night for that because the old one are returning, you know? and they're coming to earth they're close to us? They will impart their knowledge so you ask him for it and you will get it that night and I almost forgot the origin of the pumpkin, yes let's do that, that was in the olden days when they were going to the covenstead over the heath, they used to use turnips they cast them out and they put candles in them so that they could see their way, because they didn't have flashlights in those days so they would use turnips carved out to travel to their covenant, no biggie right?

What can we do to honor? are their offerings that we can leave to say thank you to our predecessors? are the angels that have helped us besides?

You know you really can't, because they're energy forms so incense is the big one we use, because that travels upwards into the ether, it goes into the air. I have jasmine and the fires of love. I sometimes use money incense. I have all different kinds.

That's another one I always keep a mirror handy by the phone if someone calls you and you feel uncertain of the way they are talking, hold the mirror against the phone and it reflects their words back to them.

these ones that Sybil gave me herself: horse you always hang them with the horns up. Strawberries is very good for diabetes by the way really and what does a person do with that with those leaves if they are diabetic eat the whole story the leaves daily daily or yeah just a couple of days three a day it's supposed to be very good for diabetes don't put sugar on them another thing you can do if you want to attract your lover's attention spit on the ground where you know they're gonna walk really they will immediately start thinking of you, spit on the ground where you know they're going to walk, yeah don't do it right because then you might be a stalker that's interesting.

What do you call marriage?

We call it hand fasting in the high priest or high priestess does the hand fasting and then joins them to go their way and be peaceful. if at the end of a certain amount of time it comes out that they're not meant for each other we do a hand separation, they're enjoying to take care of their children and pay their alimony.

oh the other thing is if you want to always have money in the house you throw a piece of silver into the house on the new moon and leave it where it fourth it's gotta be silver sumac, a dime so kay so stand outside the door or something and pitch it into the house on the new moon and just let it stay where it is.

I would like to ask you on this Halloween of 2007 or is there any wisdom or ideas that you would like to leave myself in the audience with regarding this year's Halloween ?

Yeah, the thing of witches is, they say this: to will, to know, to dare, to keep silent. Those are our golden rules there's a lot of our stuff is done in complete silence, you must say what you've done or talk about it it's a very silent religion, but a very beautiful religion, and it's only for those who have done seven karmas, you have to have been seven karmas on this earth before you come to Wicca.

fascinating Christine thank you so much

Thank you.
